

Learning Communities for READING 80

Spring 2010 Opportunities

A learning community means all the same students are in both courses, and the instructors coordinate what you're learning based on a theme.

How do I register for a learning community?

1. Select a learning community that fits your assessment scores.
2. Find the LCOM subject area on the registration webpage.
3. Find the learning community section that fits your schedule.
4. Add it to your Cart, and register for it. It's simple!

Advantages of learning communities:

- Higher GPA and completion rates
- Close network with other students
- Specially designed courses and events
- More positive college experience

LCOM 0002.01 – Introduction to College Life

Time	Mon	Tues	Wed	Thurs	Fri
8:50am–10:05am	RDNG 80		RDNG 80		RDNG 80
11:00am–11:50am	Your Academic Journey		Your Academic Journey		Your Academic Journey

LCOM 0002 pairs Preparation for College Reading (4 credits) with Your Academic Journey (CRRS1111 - 3 credits).

LCOM 0002.02 – Introduction to College Life

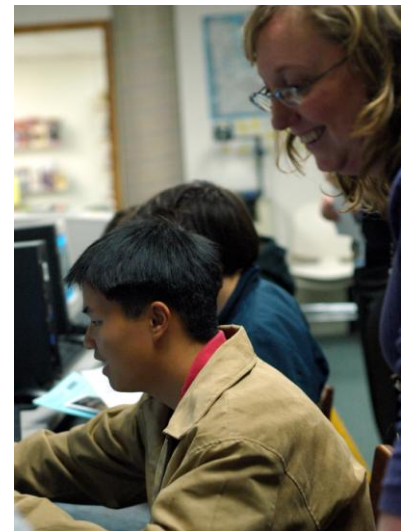

Time	Mon	Tues	Wed	Thurs	Fri
1:10pm–2:25pm	RDNG 80		RDNG 80		RDNG 80
2:40pm–3:30pm	Your Academic Journey		Your Academic Journey		Your Academic Journey

LCOM 0002.03 – Introduction to College Life

Time	Mon	Tues	Wed	Thurs	Fri
9:55am–11:50am		RDNG 80		RDNG 80
12:05pm–1:20pm		Your Academic Journey		Your Academic Journey

LCOM 0001.01 – Pathways to College Success

Time	Mon	Tues	Wed	Thurs	Fri
5:30pm–6:20pm		Pathways for Success		Pathways for Success
6:35pm–8:25pm		RDNG 80		RDNG 80

"Do it. It's an awesome experience. I've met many people through the learning community. It's a great way to make friends or get to know people in your first year."
- Kassie Harden

EVENING LEARNING COMMUNITY!

LCOM 0001 pairs Preparation for College Reading (4 credits) with Pathways to College Success (CRRS 1001-2 credits).